This time END your bender at the Olde Northender! Nick Losito, Sloppy Jonathan Hanlon, Ian Straus and Eben Viens unite to form Corn Cob Willy and the Delta Dogs. Be there or be... Olde Northender Pub, 23 North St., 10pm...

Over the years The Ramble has picked an overarching idea that captures something of the zeitgeist of the ONE. It has ranged from Pirates to the Wild West. This year, conversations about oldness, unity, newness, gentrification, and home have been in the air. At The Ramble birds of every feather flock together.

Co-ordinating Capers/Remarkable Rambler:
Dear Meara McGinniss (2015 Co-Coordinator):

16 years ago you were 16, when I was the age you are now. Donning your Docs, you darkened the doorstep of my mixed-media class at Burlington College. Your eyes full of "Teach me everything, I'm here to learn" as they are today. You ended the class making a prom dress that involved condoms and horsehair. I've rightfully bragged about it since. Now I have so many more accolades to bestow upon you. Meara, I'm personally so grateful for this opportunity to work with you and bare witness to your creative and professional growth. On behalf of The Ramble, thank you, thank you, and thank you! ~Jeannie

Thank You, from the four chambers of our hearts and from the four corners of our ONE, to the following individuals and entities who have given so much to making The Ramble happen:
